

Preferred seating configuration for Rebecca Morgan's presentation

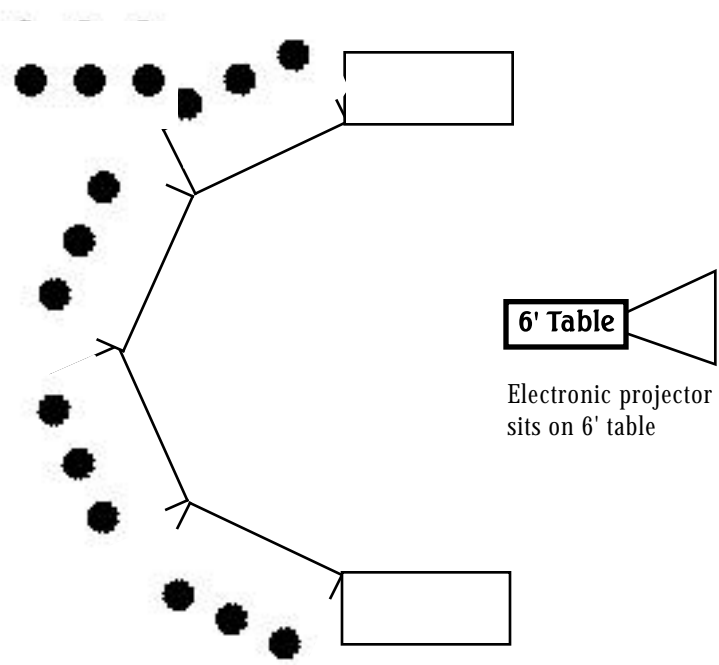

To create the optimal audience experience, we've found these seating configurations work best. Although they may seem unusual, we've found they create the most positive learning environment possible. Thank you for trusting us to help make your event the most positive experience possible.

- Angle tables for all to have easy visibility of screen.

- Angle tables for all to have easy visibility of screen.
- No straight rows all the way across room.
- No center aisle.
- Tables should be set far enough away from walls so someone can easily walk between table and wall.
- Screen angled to speaker's left.

- Angle tables for all to have easy visibility of screen.